Federal Warrant For Fetters Causes Sensation

Leading Resort Keeper Indicted For Alleged Violation of Liquor Law But Denies Knowledge of Any Crime

George Fetters, proprietor of Fetters Springs, which has been one of the most popular resorts of Sonoma Valley for several years past, was arrested Monday night at 10 o'clock by Federal officers, assisted by Deputy Sheriff Murray and is said to be charged with violating the law which makes it a felony to serve liquor to enlisted men. Fetters offered a certified check of $5000 to cover the amount of bail asked, but was compelled to get surities, and H. F. Bates, R. E. Perkins, A. Beretta and A. W. Adler qualified. A Federal indictment has been returned against Fetters in Sacramento where he will have a hearing Tuesady.

Fetters vehemently denies any knowledge of the offense said to have been committed and declares that a trap has been baited for his place for some time past. He has retained attorney W. F. Cowan. It is a well known fact that skilled operatives from a famous detective agency have been seeking evidence in the valley for some time past and the drowning at Caliente of a soldier, said to have in reality been a secret service agent, gave rise to rumors of foul play. Rigid inquiry into the circumstances has been made by the Government.

Federal officers have been in town this week closeted with witnesses, among whom are two bartenders and a young woman of Fetters Springs, who is said to have been summoned to Sacramento last week where she was interrogated.

Mrs. Fetters went to San Francisco, Monday to hire help and did not know anything of the arrest of her husband at the time. She gave herself up in Santa Rosa, Thursday, and gave bail for $5,000.

A heavy penalty will be imposed by the Government in case of conviction. It is not known whether the place wil be closed, as it is a corporation which protects it to a certain extent, since the courts have often ruled that an incorporated concern cannot be made to suffer for the act of any individual connected with it.

The Fetters Springs property represents a big investment and has transacted much business in this valley.

Of late the resort has been the scene of several military balls and has been much frequented by sailors and their friends from Vallejo. Fetters is said to have warned Mrs. Fetters that it was dangerous to cater to this trade, no matter what care they exercised since it has been currently reported for some months that an effort was being made to "get" Fetters. Government operatives who alleged they secured evidence against the resort, reported that their case was complete last week with the result that Deputy U. S. Marshal Welch came to the valley Monday and the arrests followed.

CARD OF THANKS

The family and relatives of the late Charles Baletti hereby extend sincere thanks for the many kindnesses of friends in their grief and trouble. They are also much appreciative of the beautiful flowers and words of sympathy.

Mrs. Chas. Baletti,
Mrs. L. Quartaroli,
Mrs. Borio,
Mrs.F. Borio,

Market Day Proceeds for Red Cross Climbs to $2,000 Mark

Sonoma Responds Generously to the Call to Aid Noble Cause. Plaza Gala Scene. Parade Best Ever. Ball and Ball Game Success

Sonoma valley achieved a success to be proud of when the Red Cross Market day dawned bright and clear last Saturday and ushered in the busy hours which rolled up hundreds of dollars for "the greatest mother of them all". The dollars grew from pennies and into fives and every booth recorded splendid sales with a response and enthusiasm on the part of their patrons that was surely reassuring for it shows that people enter into the spirit of this noble work for a worthy cause; Yes Sonoma valley was more than generous. Our people turned their pockets inside out and would have replenished them had the various committees provided more to sell, but the good women at the different booths little dreamed of the big day it was going to be.

Before 9 o'clock the enthusiastic workers and expectant crowd began to gather on the plaza. The buying was brisk from the start. The foodstuffs went like hot cakes, pies and bread disappeared as if by magic. Home eats were at a premium. The fruits and vegetables were selected very early in the day. The country store was thronged with buyers. It was a scene long to be remembered and when the parade began to form, buyers and sellers reluctantly left the pretty market place to take their places in the procession or along the line of march. And then when the two bands began to play—the Mare Island Naval Band which arrived on the morning train and the State Home Band, enthusiasm knew no bounds. Grand Marshal Jack Murray on a spirited black horse and chief Flohr of Petaluma who brought over the allied flags from our sister city, headed the big procession. Red Cross costumes were of course the greatest of them all, for they made that most wondrous of appeals and there were great lines of them both in the Sonoma division and Boyes Springs section of the parade. There were mothers and dear ones of the boys gone to war, school children, a tiny Uucle Sam and Junior Red Cross nurses, wonderful Indian costumes of the Daughters of Pocaontas, patriots carrying the flag. ative Daughters, led by Mrs. Paul obin, a fair Red Cross nurse clasping hands with a real soldier and sailor on a float whose background was a mammoth red cross, a tiny Miss knitting, service flags and the bands, the Home band in white uniforms with the Red Cross on each man's arm, the Naval band in the natty blue uniform of the Navy stirring our hearts with patriotism through their manly step and their inspiring tunes. "The best parade Sonoma ever had" so everyone expressed it and they voiced their opinion by generous applause all along the line of march.

After coming up Broadway and encircling the plaza twice, the procession made its way to the open space before the city hall where there were short and impromptu exercises. With Old Glory and the flags of the allies flying over head, it seemed to call forth an extemporaneous outburst of patriotism both oratorical and musical. Master of ceremonies, James Baines, addressed the crowd in a masterly manner as did also Attorney Sprague and District Attorney Hoyle. The splendid Naval Band gave selections, and two young sailor boy singers, Barney Hagan and Charles Price, won the hearts of all with their fine songs, sentimental as—"All the World will be Jealous of me," and devil-me-care, as—Heligoland." They sang from the balcong of the City Hall, and could be heard through the aid of a megaphone all over the plaza. Deafening applause and cheers greeted the boys and they had the crowd with them from the start. After admonishing the people to be liberal in their patronage of the Red Cross Benefit, the last speaker finished amid much enthusiasm for the speaker stirred all loyal Americans and our bells which ring out at the hour of noon each day for the boys "over there," reached the hearts of all with deeper meaning than ever, so it semed.

Then came the lunch hour with brisk patronage for all the booths and the serving of two complimentary lunches to the boys of the bands. Mrs. Koenig, hostess at the Union Hotel, to the State Home musicians, and Mrs. M. Schweitzer, lady bountiful, to the Naval band boys at the El Dorado. Both affairs were nicely appointed and greatly apreciated by the talent. After lunch there was more music in the open air, and at two o'clock the live stock auction conducted through the courtesy of Joe Ryan at the Union Stables. Mrs. Eliza Shepard, and a woman stock-raiser of state wide reputation for cleverness, was the auctioneer. She knew her business and demonstrated it early in the selling which fact swelled the receipts for buyers soon saw that Mrs. Shepard was selling the stock on its merit, and praising Red Cross generosity just incidentally. There was evidence of the latter too, for several times generous bidders paid their money and asked that the stock be re-auctioned.

The first patriot to inaugurate the re-selling of the Red Cross, was Vincent Devincenzi who bid in a Duroc pig for $13, and gave it back to the cause. His generosity led to others doing likewise.

No. 1.—Duroc Jersey Pig, donated by R. Q. Wickham, sold to V. Leveroni for $11.50.

No. 2.—Duroc Jersey Pig, donated by Miss Maxwell, first bid $13.00 sold to Vincenzi Vincenze and resold to Mrs. M. Norrbom for $10.

No. 3.—Jack London Ranch Brood Sow, donated by Thos Harrison, resold to Harrison for $60.

No. 4.JTwo pigs in sack, first bid Steve Zapmthas, $12., second bid Al Dutil, $11.

No. 5.—Hive of bees, donated by S. Erazmus, first bid R. G. Wickham $5., second bid S. Zapmthas, $3., third bid, N. Cantor, $2.50, fourth bid Mr. L. Mouyer, $2.50.

No. 6.—Bull calf, donated by John MacQuiddy sold to H. Christianson for $18.

No. 7.—Holstein Heifer, donated by Grace Bros., sold to B. F. Keechler for $35.

No.8.—Heifer, donated by Thos. Harrison, sold to Mrs. E. T. Lindley for $10.

No. 9.—Bull calf, donated by Mrs. O. Gordenker, sold to A. Baccala for $5.

No. 10.—Holstein Heifer, donated by Mosso Ranch, sold to B. F. Keechler for $35.

No. 11.—Shetland Pony, donated by A. Chevalier, sold to Joe Minick for $25.

No. 12.—Two young rams, donated by Frank Wattress, sold to A. Shapiro for $10.

No. 13.—Lamb, donated by Miss Silva, sold to S. Bepmatis for $5. resold to R. E. Mullen for $4, sold again to Mrs. Crane for $3.

The stock sales, including the pony won by Mrs. Hatton, totaled $385.50.

At the various booths in the plaza there were interesting auction sales at 4 o'clock, and there was a splendid white Angora Kid, donated by Edda Johannsen, sold to Mrs. Crane for $8.

The allies booth, presided over by Mesdames Power, Pinelli , Heggie, Shaw, and assistants, in national costumes, made a proud record, although the articles offered for sale were tiny novelties and toys.

The White Elephant, country store and Boyes Springs, also made things lively and recorded big sales. Messrs. Cause, Prestwood, Murphy, and others acted as auctioneers. Geo. Cause was a whirlwind at getting the money. The ladies of Boyes Springs did magnificent work under the leadership of Mrs. Parramore and Mrs. Koenig. The report prize winners at their booth are as follows:

The Country Store was treated handsomely by generous donors in all the neighborhoods solicited, and the patronage accorded them was more than satisfactory. The Grammar School dispensed soft drinks and fruit punch to advantage while the High School concessions and truck traffic squad made good money, at the same time provided much amusement. The boys in the traffic squad were costumed as cowboys, and fined all motorists who came their way.

The receipts from the several committees were reported as follows:

RECEIPTS

Livestock Auction and sale, $385. 50; Womans Club, $70.65; Native Daughters, $57.00; Eastern Star and Congregational Ladies, $43.50; Rebekahs and White Shell Club, $68.00; Glen Ellen, $75.50; M. E. Ladies Aid, $28.50; Allies, $286.36; Daughters of Pocahontas, $125.30; White Elephant, $104.35; Grammar School, $26.30; Boyes Springs, $386. 92; High School, $19.50; State Home, $156.67; Ball, $173.75; Ball Game, $78.00 Donations, $119.15, list to be published next week.

Union Hall was never more handsomely decorated than it was on Saturday night. Mrs. Lulu Vallejo Emparan was chief decorator. Handsome big flags, the stars and stripes, and all the allies, graced the stage and were also the background for the graceful festoons of pepperwood and the stately bamboo which flanked the sides of the big dance auditorium.

The Mare Island Naval Band, refreshed from a bath at Boyes Springs, and an elegant complimentary dinner given by Mrs. Bianchini, of Sonoma Grove, were in ship-shape and on hand at 9 p. m. with music, such as Sonoma dancers never before danced to. It was a gala occasion, and the ball was crowded until the seating capacity was taxed to its capacity and late comers promenaded between dances.

The sailor boy musicians were more than generous with their fine numbers, and songs were rendered at intervals by the popular Mr. Hagan and Price. Hagan also made many announcements for the committees, and his wit and clever repartee, as spieled through the megaphone, held the crowd in fine humor.

Coroner Frank Phillips was among those present, and "Doc" too was pressed into service as an auctioneer, and did himself proud on a "live pig."

The ladies of Boyes Springs had the refreshments, check room, and punch, all of which made money for the good cause.

Doorkeeper, L. H. Green reported cash at the door during the evening as over $104.

At 1 o'clock, the dancers reluctantly departed for home as the last strains of Auld Lang sang Home Sweet Home and the Star Spangled Banner lingered in their ears. It was the end of a perfect day, and a wonderfully successful one.

Nor was the program finished until Sunday when at Boyes Springs Park the game between the Navy and Quartermasters was played under the inspiring supervision of Duffy Lewis, a perfect trump in his efforts for the success of Sonoma's fete all the way through. The Quartermasters won, but what was accomplished for the Red Cross, more than offset the disappointed admirers of the Navy boys.

The ladies of oyes Springs, and pretty girls, such as Miss Hall, Miss Fox and others, assisted by Messrs Hagan and Price made astonishing sales and collected much money on the grounds from the generous ball fans. The band played too, and there was singing and general jollification as the game progressed. The score was 9 to 2 in favor of the Presidio team.

NEWS FROM OUR SOLDIERS

Peter Boccoli has received word from his son, Corporal Boccoli, that he is well and enjoying army life in England. Pete's many friends will be glad to hear that he is getting along O. K. "over there".

Arthur Drake has been at the front for five weeks and had just returned from the trenches when he wrote his last letter to friends here. He says trench life is awful with its mud and filth and rats. When he came out of the trenches with his comrades, they were met by Red Cross representatives who supplied them with a complete change of clothing right to the skin. Drake is a gunner, operating one of the big electric batteries.

GAVE A DINNER PARTY TO STUDENTS

Misses Poppe and Cochrane of the High School faculty gave a unique dinner to the graduating class of the school, Thursday week at the Poppe home. The table was beautifully decorated in the class colors, purple and gold, and the favors which were in the nature of a prophecy as to the futures of the various members of the class of 1918 created much merriment. A miniature ambulance and a tiny automobile were among the prophetic assortment.

Papers were read and there was much repartee and merriment during the serving of the several delicious courses. Music concluded the delightful evening.

That State Highway Bowl of Joy

IF ANY ONE in this dark age of history had devised an ordeal to go through worse than that pieceof State highway mess of ruts and milled up dust near San Rafael, they would have been knighted for the crime and the Kaiser would today be in communication with the ingenious spirit of cruelty. If hell has any passages worse, we'll join the air squad.

When War Is a Pretext For Injustice

CONGRESSMAN LEA called the turn on those who are making the most of the war to force their dry propaganda to the point where our vineyards would be destroyed. In discussing the Randall amendment before Congress, Mr. Lea said:

"The Randall amendment proposes that an appropriation of $6,100,000 included in this bill for agricultural purposes shall not be available unless the President shall prohibit the use of food, fruits, food materials, and feeds in the production of malt or vinous liquors for beverage purposes. Last year we gave the President a discretionary power over this question. Now we appropriate a sum of money supposedly for a necessary purpose, yet deny its use for such purpose unless the President shall make a certain order whether it conforms to his judgment or not. In other words, you try to control the discretion of the President with a club. Does any man who votes for the Randall amendment honestly doubt the ability or the willingness of the President to do the right thing in this regard?"

"As a 'war measure' this amendment is a pretense instead of a fact. It is proposed by a Member who voted against the war. It is a political camouflage. It is an attempt to take advantage of a war situation to advance a propaganda movement."

"It takes four years to raise grape vines to a producing age, a profit-bearing crop. It costs the California grower from $200 to $300 per acre to raise resistant vines to that age. If this amendment is made a permanent law it would cause a loss to the farmers who grow grapes in California alone of $30,000,000. Families, similar to that family in the South, dependent on their grape crop for food and clothing and whose sons are now in the battle line in France or in the United States Army preparing to go would by this amendment be robbed of the reward of their labor. It is not an inspiring sight to see Members of Congress, drawing large salaries, proposing to enact a law at this time which would rob the families of our soldier boys, fighting for us and our country, of their means of sustenance, of their bread and butter. Such a course can not be justified on any principles of morality known to a normal mind. This amendment is not fair nor just. It lacks that common honesty that should characterize this Nation in dealing with its people."

"To pretend that you are going to save bread by preventing the manufacture of wine is a sham. The grapes upon those vines are approaching harvest time. They have no market value for any other purpose than the manufacture of wine. To step in at this late hour and pass an act which destroys the value of that crop is an inconsiderate and wanton use of power.

"As a man, as a citizen, as a Member of Congress I am determined that whatever part I take in this war shall be a worthy one. Some day after the hardships and the perils, after the war, our boys are going to come back bringing the flag of our country in triumph. When that day comes I want to be able to welcome them at the shore or at their homes, look them square in the eye, and have a consciousness of having done the right thing by them, however humble it may be. I do not want to go back to California and have the mother or father of one of those boys say to me: "While we are buying liberty bonds, contributing to Red Cross, and while our son was fighting 6,000 miles away in Europe and offering his life for his country you were in Congress drawing a good salary and voting to rob us of the earnings of a lifetime under a false pretense of conserving grain."

"In my judgment, it is inadvisable for those who desire to pursue the most patriotic course in war time and who do not like alcoholic liquors to seize upon the war as a pretext for enforcing their views upon others who do not agree with them, where only a comparatively nonintoxicating beverage is concerned."

"Turkey has long been the one important absolutely prohibition nation. Russia established it for the war. The other warring nations prohibited or greatly restricted the use of ardent spirits, and under regulations to conserve grain and protect their soldiers, permit the use of light liquors. The law giving the President power to regulate the production of light liquors is in line with the action of the other enlightened nations at war and approved by their experience. We have reason for greater confidence in the war leadership of France and England than in that of Turkey or Russia."

"There are thousands and thousands of people in this country of foreign extraction who have been accustomed to the use of light liquors all their lives, wisely or unwisely, regard them as desirable and necessary according to their custom of life. We have thousands of Italian-Americans, a very large percentage of whom would rather give up the use of potatoes than the use of light wines. So it is with a vast number of French-Americans. We have a numerous population of German-Americans who have likewise been accustomed to the use of beer. Altogether there are millions of our population who would regard prohibition of these very light liquors as an officious and unwarranted interference with their custom of life."

EVIDENTLY vice has not melted away like the snows in spring since the saloons were eliminated in San Jose. They are still fighting it there and find that sex crime is a more complex one than they realized.

MILLIONS of pounds of sugar, torpedoed and sunk has not sweetened the temper of the American troops in this war nor the disposition of the American public toward the enemy.

THE FORD may not be a high-brow car, but its inventor and maker is good enough for us when it comes to a job at Washington, D. C.

PIN HEADS WILL NOT WIN THE WAR

It has sure brought out the fussiness of Santa Clara county, the locating there of Camp Fremont, for now all reformers have an excuse to air their pettiness.

The Round Up is to be held in San Jose again and is the center of a storm of protest from a small but loud voiced bunch of calamity howlers who are baying at the moon on account of the annual visitation of what they think is a moral calamity to the community. The local San Jose paper came out apologetically in favor of the show but was weak kneed about it, to say the least, driven to the defense by business interests as was evident.

As a matter of fact, aside from the cruel aspect of some Wild West performance, there is nothing vicious about it and has virtually put some cities on the map because of its attraction as an advertising medium. Red blooded Americans demand this sort of diversion and no more harm follows in its wake than follows the circus or kindred attractions.

Vice does follow crowds because there is money in sight and because where human nature congregates, human frailty comes to the surface and i s easily preyed upon. San Jose should have no crowds, no fetes, no conventions no circuses or cantonements for that matter if it wants a perfect moral vacuum in which to disport itself. Eternal vigilance is the only remedy for any community which is the center of a population, permanent or transient. To fight against growth and the coming of a greater town, is a confession of municipal weakness, poor local government and inability to cope with situations.

The transition from a village to a city is usually attended with spectacles such as San Jose is making of itself.

THE STATE FAIR THIS YEAR

The plans for the holding of the California State Fair during the week August 31 to Sept. 8th are thus early arousing general interest, indicating that the Fair will have a large attendance. One of the best indexes to what extent the Fair will draw attendance is found in the applications for concessions made by men who do business at the Fair, and depend upon crowds to make their investments pay.

Already five applications for restaurant concessions have been received, and competition for space and for the best locations is manifest.

Many preliminary inquiries for space for exhibits are being made. A letter from Glenn county asks for reservations to show two carloads of Duroc Jersey swine.

Horse breeders, whose industry has been stimulated by the war's demand for animals, and by the expansion of farming interests are also asking for space. One of the recent applications is from a horseman who heretofore has not participated in the annual State Fair and who asks for room to show twelve head of imported Percherons.

EMPLOYEES OF SONOMA STATE HOME ARE NOW UNIONIZED

Now Affiliated With California State Federation and American Federation of Labor

The Sonoma State Home for Feeble minded at Eldridge now numbers its employees organized and affiliated with the American Federation, and California State Federation of Labor with a membership embodying nearly 100 per cent of the working personel of the institution. The union was officially installed April 29th by a delegation from the Napa State Hospital employees, Union No. 15631, bearing special power conferred upon it by Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor at Washington. The members of the newly organized union entered into the spirit of the work in hand with a zest and interest which bespeaks well for its loyalty and efforts to work for those ideals which will make employment in State institutions for the insane, not only desirable from the standpoint of remuneration and living environment, but for such methods pertaining to their duties that will apply in a beneficial way to the patients whom they guard and care for.

The officers elected for one year follow:

P. Brennan, President; Mrs. Bertha Jensen, Vice President; John J. Jensen, Corresponding and Financial Secretary; Charles Craig, Steve Malone, B. R. Leach, Miss N. Miller and Mrs. H. D. Dickson, comprise an Executive Committee. The following members are enrolled to date:

Mrs. Eliza Shepard attended the Winans funeral in Petaluma last Friday.

Ralph Busby of the Ford agency was in San Francisco Monday on business.

Mrs. Gertrude Groskopf was up Saturday evening from San Francisco

Mrs. Nellie Tietjen has arrived from New York and is at the home of her mother in Glen Ellen. The Tietjens have decided to make California their home.

Mrs. L. C. Lewis and Mrs. Edna Hoen and family of Alameda are enjoying a vacation at their Yulupa Rancho.

Campbell Farley who has spent the last six months in Tucson, Arizona, visited with his grandparents part of this week. He and his brother Gerald returned to Oakland Wednesday where they will make their home with their mother, Mrs. A. V. Hougard, lately returned from Cornucopia, Oregon.

DECLARE ATTACK ENEMY PROPAGANDA

Sergeant Ury's Friends Come To His Defense.

Sergeant E. Ury who spoke at the Flowery school house last week was a wreck of Hun barbarism and after suffering the tortures of the damned, and losing his brother through the murderous enemy, he is naturally much embittered.

His talk was an extreme arraignment of the foe against whom our own boys are now fighting.

As a result of his radical talk here a week ago Tuesday, he has been subjected to harsh and uncalled for criticism which his friends of the Flowery district declare to savor of German propaganda. They state that Sergeant Ury should have the sympathy and help of everyone, for he is a specimen of what the Huns have made of a stalwart Canadian soldier.

Ury was entertained at the Rowe home while in this valley and Mr. and Mrs. Rowe and Mrs. Ringressy vouch for the fact that he had been gassed and the noxious fumes ate a hole through the mucus membrane of his mouth which was evidently an awful affliction. The man was also a nervous wreck and was unable to sleep at night. As for his indulgence in liquor, as maliciously refered to by a local paper, Mr. Rowe states that the soldier as a Canadian had a right to drink without violating our laws and was accustomed to his rum ration. The disparaging remarks against him and the insinuation that he turned over to the Red Cross no part of the voluntary collection which his sympathetic audience put in his cap which he left at the door of Flowery school house is not in accordance with the facts and the libelous statement is to be reported to the British council in San Francisco. One third of the collection was turned over to Mr. Kinsley of San Francisco for Red Cross work although Sergeant Ury stated that he asked no fee for his lecture but that those who felt disposed could give toward defraying his expenses.

It is pointed out that the people of the United States have much yet to see and learn of victims of Hun outrages and all who return and live to tell the tale told by Sergeant Ury will not be normal soldiers such as went into the fray but many will be shattered specimens of enemy gas torture, maimed and surely to be pitied instead of maligned.

The shameful attack against this hero of the war, who brought home the brutal truth about atrocities "over there" is being resented everywhere except in quarters where there is a desire to spread propaganda in the interest of the enemy and to stir up trouble. The author of this infamous canard is well known for his unpatriotic attitude and this latest break through his camouflage of patriotism is typical. Citizens of this type are dangerous factors in a community and Sergeant Ury's friends do not hesitate to dub the miserable attempt to discredit a Canadian soldier as German propaganda.

Mrs. J. G. McBride spent Sunday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Campbell, returning to the city with her son Carlysle Campbell Hill. They will spend their vacation visiting in Oakland, Santa Rosa and Monterey.

No Place For Letters.

A learned young woman of Boston was spending her vacation in a little country place. To the local bookshop of the village she went one afternoon and made known her mental wants to the clerk:

"I should like the 'Letters of Jane Welsh Carlyle.'"

"I beg your pardon, miss," said the clerk, "but this ain't no postoffice."—New York Globe.

FORMER PRINCIPAL IS PRAISED

Professor Painter, newly elected principal of the Petaluma high school arrived here yesterday and met the trustees and many of the teachers. He will return next week and look for a house and will arrive here with his family about July 1. —Pet. Courier.

The Press Democrat of June 14th printed the following:

"Santa Rosa friends will be interested and Petaluma is to be congratulated on the election of Professor Bruce H. Painter as the new principal of the Petaluma high school.

"Bruce Painter's boyhood days were spent in Santa Rosa and he graduated from the Santa Rosa high school many years ago. He attended college and graduated with honors. He took up pedagogy and has had a very successfu career, and he has steadily advanced to the foreground among the educators of the state schools. He was principal of the Sonoma Valley Union high school prior to going to Livermore high school, which he leaves to become the principal of the Petaluma high school. The school department of the latter city will be honored by such a man and many friends all over the county will be glad to hear of his selection to Petaluma."

CURIOUS WAYS IN JAPAN.

One Thing In Particular That Pained a Visitor From Missouri.

I knew before I got here that Japan was queer, but I had no idea that everything was backward. I can't get used to sitting on the floor and sleeping with a tomato can with a napkin around it for a pillow. The easiest way to figure out how the Japanese would do a thing is to think what would be exactly backward in Missouri. When two Japanese meet they bow and bow, giving their heads short jerks as if trying to get salt water out of their eyes. When they separate they tip their hats. When they come into a store they tip their hats. When they buy a ticket they tip their hats. Their elbows are always bent toward their hats.

Japanese never kiss. This pleasant pastime has not yet been imported into cherry blossom land. It is only recently that a few of the Japanese have learned to shake hands. We travelers are hoping that they will take up other great American institutions. Japanese look upon kissing as being low and vulgar, believing that a few moments spent in bowing is much better. The girls feel that way about it, too, they say.

When an ardent young Japanese suitor slips his arm around the girl's waist and whispers into her shell-like ear that she is the only woman who has ever understood him and when she looks up confidingly into his eyes and breathes "You are so strong!" he does not clasp her to his bosom in an ecstasy of joy and plant a delirious kiss on her trembling lips, no, instead of that he gets up and bows politely and thanks her in a few courteous phrases.

One cannot help feeling sorry for them when thinking how many pleasant evenings they miss. From my limited experience I wouldn't give a good old fashioned Missouri kiss for ten minutes of bows.—Homer Croy in Leslie's.

WHO IS WHO IN SONOMA

Community War Council's Registraar Makes Ready To Register Every Resident Over 18 Years of Age.

It will not be long now before the government, through its loyal Community War Council can put its finger on every resident of this valley and tell almost instantly by refering to the card index system, now being prepared, just who is who and how they stand in reference to any important question or problem which may arise. In other words, everyone in Sonoma valley is to be registered and a card bearing all the information sought by the government in regard to individuals living under the Stars and Stripes is to be tabulated by Dr. I. C. Gobar and his aides and filed away for ready reference.

Dr. Gobar was named by the local Community War Council as Chief Registraar and he has appointed the following captains to assist him in the gigantic task of registering all residents of their respective districts: J. Hawkins, El Verano; R. R. Emparan, Sonoma Precinct No. 2; Chas. Dal Poggetto, Sonoma Precinct No.1; W. R. Hansen, Vineburg; Howard Knight, San Luis; Milo Baker, Kenwood; Julius Pancrazi, East and West Glen Ellen; W. Gallagher, Eldridge; Fred Boynton, Agua Caliente;.

It is estimated that 3000 cards will have to be filled out and the questions are comprehensive, having to do with birth, antecedents, occupation etc.

Cure For Nosebleed.

I sometimes read in the daily papers of death caused by bleeding at the nose. Here is a cure discovered by me and not known or practiced by any physician. I am an old shipmaster, have tried it in a number of cases and never knew it to fail. It is very simple. Any one can perform the operation.

Place the patient in a sitting position or propped up in bed, and with the forefinger press gently in the hollow of the throat just above the breast bone, and the bleeding will gradually cease.

To avoid bleeding at the nose, especially in the case of children, get a large bead the size of a large marble, put it on a silk or woolen string and tie it around the neck so that the bead hangs in the hollow of the throat and wear it night and day.—New York Sun.

A Remarkable Stork.

The whale billed stork is found on a lake south of the White Nile. The lake has never been mapped and is bordered by extensive swamps. It is hard to tell where swamp ends and lake begins, for most of the water surface is covered with a dense mat of tangled vegetation. On this mat the whale billed stork builds its nest. It is a very rare bird and is known to the Arabs as the Father of the Shoe, because of its huge shoe shaped bill. It is of solitary habits, blackish gray in color, with wide spreading long toed feet adapted for standing on the quaking surface of a floating field of vegetation. Its habits are sluggish, and it lives mainly on fish. Colonel Roosevelt describes it as "hunting sedately in muddy shallows or standing motionless for hours, surrounded by reed beds or by long reaches of treacherous ooze."

SONOMA NOT EFFECTED TILL 1919

This Fact Brought Out Relative To Proposed Increase In Light and Power Rates at Hearing Friday Last.

The interest taken by the city of Sonoma and other municipalities in the territory of the California Telephone and Light Company in the proposed 30 per cent raise in rates, led to concerted opposition at the hearing before the Railroad Commission Friday, the 14th, with the result that municipalities are guaranteed protection against any raise until July 1919 whatever the outcome of the present hearing.

The corporation got into deep water almost immediately when after producing figures designed to show the justice of the asked-for increase, the Commission pointed out the fact that the proposed raise was based on the fallacious valuation of $425,000, whereas these figures should allow a depreciation of approximately $90,000. The light company sought to show that it was entitled to 8 per cent on an investment of $425,000, but the Commission pointed out that $90,000 had already been determined as the depreciation and had not been deducted. It was also brought out that the corporation was attempting to make the public pay for deficits existing after the usual dividends had been paid to stock holders and that they figured income tax etc. as overhead. Attorney Frank Sprague appeared for the city of Sonoma at the hearing and Mr. Towle of Boyes Springs was also a valuable representative from Sonoma valley. As a result of the protests and airing of the case Friday, the Commission was determined to go into the matter farther and finally consented to confer with the California Telephone and Light Company and permit them to explain away if possible, discrepancies, which appear on the face, to preclude the proposed increase of 30 per cent in rates to consumers of light and power.

Gestures Part of Talk.

There is a man who from a very early age has lived in countries where Spanish is the almost universal tongue. From force of this training he speaks Spanish perfectly. He has not the slightest trace of an English accent, and persons who do not know that he is of American parentage are willing to believe he is a Spaniard merely from hearing him talk. He is so perfectly bilingual that it shows even in his gestures. When talking with English speaking persons he sits quietly and does his conversing with his mouth alone. Only in case of making a point most emphatically does he use a gesture. But the moment he drops into Spanish his every word is accompanied by a movement of the hands or arms. It is interesting to watch the change from the English to the Spanish side of him, because it comes so suddenly. He really can't speak Spanish without gesturing.—New York Sun.

Training a Dog.

It may surprise some people to be told that dogs have a strong sense of justice, so, unless you want your pup to gain a poor opinion of you, be careful when you punish him. Never punish unless the pup can associate the punishment with the offense. The circumstantial evidence may be very strong, but you had better wait and catch him in the act. Common sense is about all that is required to rear a puppy into a dog which will be a faithful, useful, steadfast companion—common sense and consideration. Whenever I find one of those "anything will do for the pup" kind of people I can see in my mind's eye what the humans in that family look like.—Outing.

A Unique Cross.

In the heart of the Rocky mountains may be seen the Mountain of the Holy Cross, which is 14,000 feet in height. It derives its name from a gigantic cross on one side, near the summit, formed by fissures in the rock. It can be seen for many miles with great distinctness and is looked upon with superstitious fear by the natives.—Exchange.

All Right.

His Mistake.

"I cannot live without you!"

"You have evidently got me confused with my cousin. It is she who is wealthy."—Houston Post.

FARM ADVISER MAKES REPORT

Interesting Account of Activities In Sonoma County's New Office.

I submit herewith a brief report of the Farm Advisors' office from May 18th to June 15th, 1918:

Miles traveled, 734; Days in field, 16; Days in office, 8: Farm Center meetings held, 13; Attendance, 529; Other meetings at which the Farm Advisor was presentand spoke, 2; Attendance, 33.

An organization meeting is to be held at Annapolis on June 24th.

Pledges covering over 1500 hogs were signed in Sonoma County as a result of the hog campaign. Stanislaus County was the only county in the state to sign up a larger number of hogs. During the present month, feeding and management of hogs has been the principal topic of discussion at Farm Center meetings.

The question of the auction sale of livestock, particularly hogs, in Sonoma County is a live one with several Farm Centers and a full consideration of this subject by the Farm Bureau directors would be in order.

As the end of the fiscal year approaches, it is fitting that we give considerable attention to what has been done by the Farm Bureau and to make plans for the coming year. Some of the things that the Farm Bureau has already accomplished may be mentioned as follows:

1. Secured a modification of the Food Administration ruling on the killing of chickens, permitting the slaughter of non-laying hens before the date of the lifting the embargo.

2. Secured through the Food Administration the modification of long term contracts for canning cherries, saving to Sonoma County 1½c per pound or five hundred tons of cherries.

3. Secured pledges for the keeping of over 1500 pigs and hogs. This number would have been doubled had the organization of the Farm Bureau been complete.

4. Organized the Sonoma Valley Apple Growers.

5. Signed up 1100 cows for cooperative cow testing. The operation of this department awaits only the selection of a competent cow tester.

6. Secured the establishment of a State and National District Employment Office in Sonoma County. Over 600 places have already been filled through this office.

Some of the things that the Farm Bureau should do I believe may be listed as follows:

1. To bring about the more intensive conservation and preservation of all food stuffs, the production of many, and a wide spread and economical use of wheat and meat substitutes under the leadership of a Home Demonstration Agent.

2. To cut in two the cost of lime to Sonoma County farmers, thereby greatly stimulating production.

3. To bring about a more wide spread use of the silo in Sonoma County.

4. To arrest the threatened wholesale decline of the poultry industry in Sonoma County by leading the poultrymen to: Improve their stock, cull non-laying hens, improve their feeding methods, eradicate disease in their flocks, improve housing conditions, improve their methods of brooding.

5. To bring about an efficient system of rural fire protection.

6. To bring about improved marketing conditions for livestock and other farm products.

7. To bring about a more complete utilization of farm lands in Sonoma County by promoting the use of areas now idle, or nearly so, and by bringing about better drainage conditions whenever feasable.

8. To utilize as completely as possible all native sources of fertilizer. Daily shipments of chicken manure that are particularly needed in Sonoma Countyare now made from Petaluma to Los Angeles.

The accomplishment of numbers 1 and 4 depends largely on securing the services of a Home Demonstration Agent and a poultry specialist and this, in turn depends on securing from the County an appropriation to pay the expenses of these officers while in the County. With these things in mind and at the request of the County Clerk, I have submitted to the Board of Supervisors a budget, calling for an appropriation of$6500 for use by the Farm Advisor's office for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1918. The sum asked for will provide for the maintenance of the office and for the traveling expenses of the Farm Advisor, two assistant Farm Advisor's, and a Home Demonstration Agent, the salaries of these officers being paid by the State and Nation. $6500 will pay for three machines, 40,000 miles of travel, one stenographer at $50 per month and one at $40, the necessary office equipment and supplies and other necessary expenses, a detailed schedule of which can be furnished if desired. Although the appropriation desired may seen large, it should be born in mind that the main function of the Farm Advisor's office is to stimulate production, and that money expended through it will bring large dividends to the Sonoma County growers. If the appropriation is made, there will be assigned to the county in addition to Mr. Martin, a poultry specialist, who will be able to do much towards averting the impending decline of the Sonoma County commercial poultry industry. There will also be assigned to the county, a Home Demonstration Agent, who by acting through the Farm Bureau, will bring about a more intensive and extensive conservation and preservation of all food stuffs and a more wide spread and economical use of wheat and meat substitutes. She will institute practices in the farm home that will not only be patriotic but economical and profitable as well.

The budget covering the appropriation sought by my office has been prepared with the idea in mind that as small a sum of money be asked for as was consistant with an efficient prosecution of the work requested of it by the State and Nation.

Respectfully submitted,
Geo. E. Merrill, County Agent.

GREEN RIBBON ON WILL OF LATE CAPTAIN WARD

The will of the late Captain Francis Moore Ward, formerly of the British army, was filed for probate Tuesday in the Superior Court and devises all his property in America to his wife, Mrs. Nora Ward. The will was drawn in England by a scrivener, which is the Angelican form for legal papers, and has a bow of dark green ribbon, indicative of the court of chancery. The widow resides in Sonoma county and is represented by Attorneys Elston, Clark and Nichols. The estate consists of 160 acres of land, valued at $10,000. The petition will be heard July 1st.

PLAINTIFF RETURNS TO MICHIGAN HOME

Mrs. Wm. Russell who came here from Michigan several months ago to get justice in the setting aside of a deed, given in an alleged fraudulent transaction involving her old home here, has returned East without knowing the outcome of the case, Judge Denny has not yet rendered a decision.

Mr. Russell made the trip West also to testify in the action and preceded his wife home by about 10 days.

The Russells while here were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Adler who entertained them most hospitably.

Byron Swisher of Healdsburg was here for the Red Cross day, a guest at the Green home.

Miss Agnes Moss has been down from Geyserville on a visit to Mrs. L. H. Green.

WANT MORE OIL

Property owners and citizens having at heart the condition of the street leading to the cemetery are in hopes that the thoroughfare will receive its share of oil. When the other streets were oiled by the city it was at the finish when the oil was about gone and consequently it was put on very sparingly and not further than the depot grounds.

VINEBURG

Among those who are called to aid Uncle Sam is that stalwart Native Son, Albert Groskopf, who leaves on the 26th of this month. Al, as he is known from Santa Rosa to Black Point has been employed by the firm of John Batto & Sons as head teamster and truck driver for over six years and his genial manner and accommodating ways have made him a favorite with all. If he proves as loyal to Old Glory as he did to his late employers, Uncle Sam will have an ideal soldier, believe me.

Louis Martin of Vineburg Inn was called to the metropolis on business one day last week.

John Rubke, a rising young business man of San Francisco, accompanied by his wife and Mrs Henry Rubke of Schellville were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Rubke at Bella Vista on Sunday last.

A carload of choice poultry feed was received at Batto's spur Tuesday and consisted of 45 tons of all varieties.

Mrs. August Figone and Miss Mary Batto visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Batto, Wednesday.

The Huichica School closed Friday June 14th for the summer. The following students graduated, Masters Frederick Batto, Rudolph Anderson, Herschel Hyde and Misses Emily Batto, and Florence Forni. For the last four years the school has prospered under the careful management of one of California's veteran educators, Mrs. Carrie Dependener.

Hay bailing will start in this vicinity in a few days.

"Whispering Pines", the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Groskopf on the Napa road was the scene of a happy reunion on Sunday last and among the guests assembled were, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Groskopf of Oakland, Mrs. Frank Groskopf and Miss Cecilia Pfliger of San Francisco, Mrs Louie Breitenbach of Sonoma and Mrs. Arthur Batto and children of Vineburg and Miss Lena Keechler of McGills. All enjoyed a pleasant day.

During the month of May, the Gundlach-Bundschu Wine Co. received, shipped and handled 50 carloads of wine at this point that were consigned to all parts of the world.

Frank Groskopf who has been stationed at Camp Lewis for the past 9 months is paying a visit to his folks here this week. Welcome home Frank.

Harvesting has started in the valley and 8 or 10 self binders are now engaged in cutting grain.

Mrs. Chas McDevitt of Sonoma with her son Francis and daughter Elizabeth, one of the little prize beauties, were the guests of Mrs. Fred Batto on Thursday.

The Box Car Improvemnt Club and the Five O'clock Tea Club have combined and on next Tuesday will meet to discuss and arrange plans for the coming Election and of course, whatever Vineburg says, goes.

EASY JIM.

CLUB WOMEN WOULD REVOKE LICENSE

On suggestion of Mrs. J. H. Murray the Woman's Club went on record, yesterday, as favoring the revocation of the liquor license of Fetters Springs. Mrs. F. T. Duhring made a strong plea to the women to endorse any movement to rid the valley of what she termed a moral menace.

Mrs. Carrie Burlingame and Mrs. H. Appleton also spoke against the well known resort and Mrs. Burlingame made a motion that a committee wait on the Board of Supervisors Mrs. A. Bates, president of the Woman's Club, appointed the following committee: Mrs. Duhring, Mrs. Murray and Mrs. Wagnon.

BOYES SPRINGS BENEFIT FOR FIRE DEPARTMENT

A benefit for the Boyes Springs Fire Department will be held Saturday and Sunday, June 29th and 30. Home eats, sold by the ladies of Boyes vicinity on Saturday.
